

MERGER OF NEWSPAPERS ANNOUNCED

DAILY BANNER WILL TAKE OVER GREENCASTLE HERALD
NEWSPAPER PLANT

CHANGE EFFECTIVE AUG. 1

Deal Completed By Mrs. Mabel
Arnold And S. R. Riden Monday Afternoon

An agreement was entered into between Mrs. Mabel H. Arnold and S. R. Riden Monday afternoon, whereby the latter will take over the newspaper holdings of the late Charles J. Arnold, and within the next few days, the same will be merged with The Daily Banner into one publication in Greencastle.

The Herald will be continued until August 1, after which publication will stop and all paid in advance subscribers to it will be sent The Banner for the remainder of the unexpired time.

Under the terms of the agreement the physical property of the Herald along with the good will, will pass into the hands of the publishers of The Daily Banner. The new publication will cater to the public from the standpoint of a better newspaper, and every effort will be made to serve the community with the highest type of a small city daily paper.

The economic conditions of the past several years has made many changes in newspaper fields in Indiana, and Greencastle has been one of the few smaller cities in which two daily newspapers were published. There has been a long felt want on the part of merchants for one stronger newspaper and the consolidation at this time will give them this advantage. There will be no division of advertising nor a doubling of costs, due to two newspapers in a small field. The consolidation, which has been discussed several days, has been welcomed by the merchants in an enthusiastic manner.

There are but few cities in Indiana where there are now two newspapers, and in these places, the merchants have benefited greatly from the increased prestige and coverage of the single paper. In such cities as Brazil, Crawfordsville, Paris, Ill., Linton, Clinton, Rushville, Greensburg, Kokomo, Gary, Marion, Peru, Richmond, and scores of other cities, many of which are several times the size of Greencastle, only one newspaper is to be found. In these places the business firms have welcomed the consolidations and have benefited as a result of the stronger lone paper.

Bank Situation Still Unsettled

FRENCH NEGOTIATIONS SUSPENDED WITH ENGLAND. GERMAN DECREE ISSUED.

PARIS, July 28, (UP)—Negotiations for the Bank of France and French private banks to advance credits of $100,000,000 to the Bank of England were suspended today as a result of refusal of the British treasury to consent to the loan.

The French admitted that negotiations had reached the point of agreement under which the French banks were willing to subscribe $100,000,000, subject to approval of the British government.

It was believed the refusal is prompted by the fact that exchange had reached a level where it was unprofitable to export British gold to France. Recently there have been tremendous shipments.

The result of the shift in exchange was that no gold had arrived by air at Le Bourget field up to mid-afternoon today, and many French buying orders in London were cancelled.

BERLIN, July 28, (UP)—A new emergency decree issued by President Hindenburg today failed to provide for reopening of German banks on a full business basis tomorrow, but essentially upheld present restrictions on banking transactions.

A slight increase of amount permitted to be paid out was permitted, however.

GRAF NEARING POLE
BERLIN, July 28, (UP)—The Graf Zeppelin alighted for a few moments alongside the Soviet ice-breaker Malagin during the night off Hoher Island, in Silen Bay, and continued toward the pole today, reports reaching here said.

PAUL BROWN BUYS PLANE

FILLMORE BOY PURCHASES
ARROW-SPORT MONOPLANE
FOR OWN USE

Paul Brown, Fillmore young man, has purchased an Arrow-Sport monoplane with a LeBlond motor, it was learned here today. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Fillmore.

Brown, formerly an automobile salesman in this city, left several years ago to study aviation and has held a pilot's license for some time.

Whether or not Brown will use the plane for passenger carrying service is not known, but his purchase of the plane gives him the distinction of being Putnam county's first airplane owner. It is said Brown would keep the plane at his home in Fillmore.

Greencastle has two young people who are studying for a pilot's license. They are Miss Mary Case and Walter Gardner.

Cars Damaged At Intersection

CLOVERDALE AND BRAZIL MEN CRASH AT JUNCTION OF 40 AND 43

Two automobiles were wrecked but the three occupants of both cars escaped injury, when the machines crashed together south of the junction of State Road 43 and Federal Highway 40, south of Greencastle, Monday evening.

Drivers of the two machines were John H. Weaver, living south of Cloverdale, who was driving south on Road 43, and G. M. Hippleheuser, of Brazil, who started to turn west on Road 40 after coming from the south on Road 43.

Hippleheuser's car, a new Model A Ford, was struck broadside by the Weaver Model T Ford coupe, at the beginning of the "Y" at the southwest corner of the intersection.

Both machines were badly damaged. Two persons were in the Hippleheuser car while Weaver was alone. It was said Weaver recently moved here from Illinois.

State Motor Vehicle officer Roy Newgent of Greencastle was called to make an investigation of the crash.

TEXAS TOWN THREATENED BY OIL BLAST

TANK EXPLOSION KILLS ONE MAN; TWO OTHER WORK-MEN INJURED

CHANGE IN WIND IS FEARED

Veterans Of Oil Fields Say Sudden
Shift in Wind Would Destroy
Kilgore

KILGORE, Tex., July 28, (UP)—One man was killed, two were seriously burned, and the lives of 10,000 others were endangered today by an oil tank which exploded and created a lake of flames within two blocks of Kilgore's business district.

Asbestos clad veterans who explored the vicinity around the tank reported at daybreak that the danger zone had been cleared of bodies and workmen, but expressed fear that a sudden shift in wind might sweep the flames across the mushroom town and wipe out its many wooden structures.

There was an added danger that the fire would ignite the Butts No. 1 well, an "occasional" gusher, the controls of which were said to be open and which is so near the flaming tank that should it spout unexpectedly, firemen said nothing could prevent it catching fire and spraying the blaze over the town and crowd.

Early reports that at least six men were trapped by the fire were found by firefighters apparently to be wrong and they said they believed only one man, Clyde Erskine, a driller, had been killed. Charles Tomlinson, another driller, and William Hood, were severely burned. Earlier, persons in the crowd reported they had seen men writhing on the ground near the tanks.

The storage tank exploded last night with a crash that shook the town and sprayed flaming oil about the neighborhood.

Undaunted by the danger that lurked in the vicinity, residents rushed by the sears to the flaming tank. Among them was "Blackie" Delong, a famous oil fire fighter, who happened to be in town.

Donning his asbestos garments, Delong marched into the flames and came back dragging the body of Clyde Erskine, 35. In two more trips he brought out Charles Tomlinson and William Hood who were in great pain from their burns.

Fearing that the "occasional" well might spout unexpectedly, catch fire and extend the danger area to many times its original size, firemen and policemen fought to keep back the crowds, but with little success. Residents crowded as near the flaming tank as they could get without being burned and it was feared that if theerrick was fired many more would be hurt.

Trucks Cause Many Complaints

MOTORISTS SAY ROCKS ARE DAMAGING TO THEIR TIRES

Trucks hauling crushed and loose rock through Greencastle from the local quarries to the state roads north of town are causing many complaints, according to James Moran, superintendent of city streets.

It is said the loose rock which falls from the trucks on corners, causes much damage to automobile tires and also is dangerous to pedestrians because automobiles pick up the loose rock and throw it oftentimes with great force.

To keep the rock cleaned up the street force would have to spend practically all its time at this work, it was said. One of the biggest reasons why the rock falls from trucks is because they are overloaded, it was said.

It is probable this matter will be taken up and discussed by the city council at its meeting tonight.

Mayor W. L. Deman Tuesday morning ordered city police to keep the stone trucks from hauling through Northwood. Police were routing the trucks north on Arlington street and north on Jackson street. Because of a detour which starts just north of the water works bridge many of the trucks are taking the shorter route north through Northwood and over Big Walnut at the Hawk bridge. Northwood streets were being damaged by the trucks, the mayor said.

A. R. Chenoweth was in Indianapolis today on business.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held a short business meeting at the College Inn this noon.

LINDBERGH'S HOP OFF

WASHINGTON, July 28 (UP)—A perspiration soaked young man and his sun scorched wife started today for a vacation flight to Asia. Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh flew away from Naval Air Station at 1:21 p. m. EST.

Lindbergh said he expected to fly to North Haven, Me., home of Senator and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, parents of Mrs. Lindbergh.

PLANE FORCED DOWN

A plane, owned and operated by the Linco Products Company, flying from Finley, O., to Terre Haute, was forced down in the Dunbar clover field just north of the city Tuesday morning, due to lack of oil. The pilot got in touch with local High Point officials and after securing the necessary fuel continued westward to the Vigo county seat.

CONVICTIONS OF POLICEMEN ARE REVERSED

POLICEMEN AT INDIANAPOLIS
MAY RECEIVE BACK PAY
AS RESULT

INDIANAPOLIS, July 28, (UP)—Possibility that five Indianapolis policemen, whose convictions on liquor charges were reversed by the U. S. Appeal court in Chicago, may be given back pay for the time they were off the force, was seen today.

Frederick Bonfield, chief of defense, said: "They are no longer convicted. I believe their dismissal was illegal and we shall ask that they be put back on to work and receive their full pay for the ten months."

Two indictments were returned against 18 Indianapolis policemen September 19, 1930. All charged that the indictments were a "frameup". Eleven were acquitted either through lack of evidence or on instructions of Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell. Walter Gilbert, slain during an attempt to arrest a bootlegger suspect near Fort Wayne last week, was one of the principal government witnesses during the trial.

In the conviction of the five policemen, the government based its case upon the testimony of three Chicago prohibition agents. They testified that they gave marked money to the operator of the liquor "blind" which they set up. The money was to be used to pay the policemen to ignore his activities.

All the policemen indicted were charged with having received drinks or money or both at the agents' liquor establishment. The jury found the five guilty.

PLANES LEAVE NEW YORK ON DARING TRIPS

BOTH SHIPS TAKE OFF ON AT-TEMPTS TO BREAK LONG DISTANCE RECORD

TO FOLLOW NORTHERN ROUTE

Fliers Hope to Make Moscow And Is-tambul Their First Respective Scheduled Stops

NEW YORK, July 28, (UP)—Two planes took off from Floyd Bennett field here today, headed into a cloud bank overhanging the waters off Long Island, and raced across the Atlantic.

One headed for Moscow on a round the world flight, and the other headed for Turkey. It was the second takeoff for each plane, heavy loads forcing landings on attempts to start the projected flights several days ago.

Their departures were timed within 17 minutes of one another; and each plane charted its course to follow the northern ship lanes from Harbor Grace, Nfld., on advice of the weatherman.

Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., lifted their Bellanca monoplane into the air at Floyd Bennett field at 5:19 a. m. E. S. T. and headed for Moscow, their first scheduled stop on the globe-encircling attempt.

A few minutes earlier, Russell Boardman and John Polando lifted their Bellanca plane, "Cape Cod," from the same field and headed for Istanbul.

Designer Bellanca witnessed the take-offs, in which both planes took full advantage of the 4,000 foot runway. In order to avoid repetition of previous failures at take-offs, when the planes, heavily loaded with gas, failed to gain altitude, the entire runway was cleared and a concrete parking space beyond it was roped off.

If Pangborn and Herndon complete the 5,400-mile hop without mishap they will have bettered the long distance record of Dieudonne Coste and Joseph Lebriz, French fliers.

Boardman and Polando faced a 5,000-mile jaunt to the Turkish capital. This, also would better the existing non-stop record; but they say they will fly even further—as long as their gasoline holds out.

The Boardman-Polando plane was first on the field. It was rolled out of the hangar—where the plane of Miss Laura Ingalls also is poised for a trans-Atlantic hop—and onto the apron at the northeast end of the runway.

Dawn was just lightening up the field through a light layer of mist.

The motor was warmed up and the young Massachusetts fliers began their long run down the field.

The Cape Cod roared forward, gathering speed, and at 4:59 a. m. EST the craft lifted gracefully into the air.

Boardman and Polando headed over Gerritsen Bay and soon were out of sight in a dark cloud over the ocean. Meanwhile Pangborn and Herndon had climbed into their craft and were warming the motor. Pangborn, a veteran flier, credited with 17,000 hours in the air, required a slightly shorter run, nosing the craft into the air at 5:16 EST after a run of 3,500 feet.

Car Is Stolen From Road Camp

AUTO BELONGING TO HOWARD
KIRACAFE DRIVEN AWAY
BY HITCH-HIKER

A new 1931 Chevrolet maroon coach belonging to Howard Kiracafe, was stolen from the Johnson camp north of Greencastle, Monday afternoon and no trace of the machine had been found Tuesday.

It was believed that a young hitch-hiker who stopped at the camp Monday afternoon for work, took the automobile, as another worker saw him driving away in it. Mr. Kiracafe did not discover the theft until late Monday afternoon and for a time believed that some one had borrowed the car for the evening. When his car was not returned Kiracafe notified local police and state motor vehicle officer Roy Newgent.

The car carried Ohio license number D63-630, according to police.

HEAT RELIEF PROMISED

INDIANAPOLIS, July 28, (UP)—Showers will break the present heat wave in Indiana by tomorrow night, it was forecast here today by the U. S. weather bureau. CREDIT MEN'S ASSOCIATION IN FINE MEETING

DINNER MEETING HELD AT COUNTRY CLUB MONDAY.
RATING BOOK DISCUSSED

BOOK TO BE ISSUED AUGUST 10

Many Fine Responses Have Been Received From Men and Women Who Were Sent First Notice

The Putnam County Credit Association held a dinner meeting at the Country Club Monday evening, at which 40 of the 63 members were present.

The purpose of the meeting was to go over in an open discussion, the list of names turned in by the various members before the new rating book is published. There had been an original list of about 1,300 names submitted, but letters announced the fact that a new rating book was being prepared went to each of the names, and there has been a splendid response from the men and women who were so notified. It was decided that a little more time was necessary for some to make plans to carry their accounts, and as a result, it was agreed to postpone the publication of the rating book until August 10. This will make it possible for a large number to pay their accounts, or to make arrangements for payment. No hardship is to be worked on anyone, and for this reason, the additional two weeks time has been allowed.

R. P. Mullins acted as president in the absence of Gray Potter, who is on the sick list. There was an open discussion from all present on the various proposals up for hearing and it was one of the best meetings the organization has ever held.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (UP)—Administration officials today continued to warn industry against disastrous results of any general wage cutting. They said President Hoover contemplates no surrender of his policy of trying to persuade employers to maintain wages, although it is recognized that in some industries falling earnings and deficits operate against this policy.

WHY JUNIOR BASEBALL?

When the World war ended, the citizen soldiers in the armed forces of the United States, men who fought and suffered and risked their all for the preservation of our ideals of government, formed the American Legion for the purpose of carrying on their unselfish service in peace time. Their objectives were to uphold and promote those ideals to the end that citizenship, democracy and American institutions would be advanced. They adopted a code of patriotism to define their purposes and for their guidance. A part of that code reads, "To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy." These three principles embrace all that is best in American national life.

The Legion National Conventions in seeking to direct the Legion's activities throughout the succeeding years sought ways and means of handing down those three principles to the youth of the country. The members of the Legion are practical men and women. They learned in war how to get at the root of a problem quickly and how to go about a job in the most direct manner. They wished to get the attention of young Americans in a way that would be effective. The red-blooded American boy has little time for lectures if he can avoid them. His interest lies in play and in pitting his muscles and cunning against other boys of his age. The American Legion realized that the best approach would be through the most interesting boys' contest that could be employed. Baseball was the obvious medium, primarily because it is America's own game; because it offers unlimited possibilities for organizing all boys into one huge competition and because it provides for every boy an active, equal and individual part and an active participation to the fullest extent of his ability.

Today the baseball program is on a permanent footing. Annually it is attracting hundreds of thousands of boys. During 1930 over 300,000 boys were out on the lots, playing the game under the Legion banner. In 1929 the total was approximately the same figure. The goal of the Legion is not to produce good baseball players, although that alone is worth while because with the ability to play baseball must come clean living and good health, but the Legion is looking ahead a few years to that time when the boy of 17, who is playing this season with Legion teams for the last time, will be a citizen with responsibility. The Legion's main objective in this program is four years ahead of this season, and on into the future years when this quarter of a million boys are men and they have sons who are good men. Then, if the principles of good sportsmanship are learned thoroughly on the baseball diamonds now, those same boys of today will be good men, good citizens and good Americans of tomorrow.

An unusual and sparkling picture, "Up Pops the Devil" is the feature attraction at the Granada theater tonight and Wednesday. Beautiful blonde Carole Lombard portrays the leading feminine role in a most bewitching manner in this snappy story of modern youngsters and modern marriages.

Stewart Erwin and Skeets Gallagher take care of the comic roles as only these two comedians could. Erwin is "dumber than ever" in "Up Pops the Devil" and Gallagher with his monkey-shines and witty conversation will keep the audience in an uproar.

In addition to this trio of well known silver screen celebrities, "Up Pops the Devil" boasts a strong supporting cast and a plot that is guaranteed to be different. The action is fast with plenty of laughs and a bang up climax.

Miss Elizabeth Padgett, assistant in the county agent's office, who underwent an appendicitis operation at Lebanon recently, was reported getting along nicely Tuesday. Miss Padgett expects to return to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Padgett near Bainbridge, the last of this week.

URGES SOIL BUILDING
A program of soil building through the proper use of drainage, lime, legumes and livestock, is being urged in Putnam County at the present time. According to County Agent E. W. Baker now is the time to think seriously about increased soil fertility and greater crop production.

One means of increasing soil fertility is through the use of lime and sweet clover which greatly increases quality and quantity of farm products.

The price of pulverized limestone at the present time is very reasonable and a dollar spent for lime now, in a period of seven years returns a dividend of $5. This statement is said to come from farmers throughout the state who have made a very careful check of limestone results.

DIVORCES BRING FAME TO TOWN
NEAR OHIO LINEBUCKEYE VILLAGE RIVALS RENO'S MILL FOR SEPARATIONS

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., (UP)—Not only has St. Clairsville gained a reputation for coal mine strikes, but it also is beginning to gain fame as a divorce center.

The situation hasn't quite reached the proportions of Reno's "mill," but for its population of 2,240, nearly 1,000 couples decided to end their marital state last year.

While St. Clairsville is a "parting of the ways" center, Wellsburg, W. Va., 30 miles up the river, is the center of the marriage "traffic" of the two states. Wellsburg has a population of 5,000 and boasts of 5,000 marriages last year.

Meanwhile the traffic brings "big business" to the two towns. Hotels, road houses, gasoline stations, midge golf courses, restaurants, ministers, taxi cab drivers, bell hops and the two counties are "cleaning up."

The only requirements for a marriage in Wellsburg call for being 21 years old and single. Citizens of the town have the process well organized. Two taxi cab drivers will meet a couple at the train, see that a marriage license is procured, find a minister and take husband and wife back to the train for a flat rate of $10.

Pastors have shortened the marriage vows for "hurry-up" marriages and charge a flat fee of $5.00.

Here 30 constitutes in Belmont county constitutes time for "residence" in order to obtain a divorce. "Extreme cruelty" is stretched to the extreme and three minutes in court with a $50 fee bring a divorce, provided, of course, that the case is uncontested. Then it may take a day or two.

It is estimated that during the past year the marriage caravan spent $40,000 to have wedding bells ring up the river and $100,000 to muffle them here.

TINY CAMERA
SNAPS STOMACH

PARIS, (UP)—Twenty seconds is all the time needed to take eight stereoscopic views of the interior of the human stomach with the new apparatus employed at the Leopold Bellan has been discharged from service.

hospital here. The tiny camera, known as a gastrophot, is the result of five years of research in the stomach and intestinal service of Dr. A. Becart.

The photographs obtained can reveal the diagnosis of different forms of gastritis. Also, valuable indications before and after surgical operations may be obtained.

An interesting feature of the apparatus is the small lamp placed between the upper and lower camera. This lamp which can be branched to any sort of current, gives a cold blue light of 20,000 candlepower, which lasts 1-20th of a second. The light automatically causes a short circuit, which melts the fuse of the transformer and volatilizes the lamp.

Dr. Becart already has organized courses for demonstrations with the gastrophot and for instruction in its use.

BOAST CLEAN RECORD
ROCKFORD, ILL., (UP)—Deafness is not a serious impairment to a person's ability to drive an automobile, it was stated by Mrs. James Lord, Peoria, secretary of the Illinois Association of the Deaf, at the fifteenth triennial convention of the association in session here recently.

In support of this statement statistics were introduced showing that more than 400 totally deaf persons drove cars during the year and not one was the victim of a serious accident.

Mrs. Lord's report on the ability of deaf persons to drive automobiles was made in defense against proposed legislation to prevent deaf persons from driving cars.

VILLA GROVE, ILL. (UP) A brother whom she had not seen for 45 years and whom she had thought dead, communicated with Mrs. Taylor Robinson here recently, from Fort Smith, Ark. It was the first message Mrs. Robinson had received from him since he left home in 1885.

The Van Camp Hardware and Iron Company filed suit in the Putnam circuit court Tuesday against Isaac Harris to collect an alleged unpaid account. A demand of $164 is made. Frank G. Stoessel is attorney for the plaintiff.

Sergeant R. A. Bowen of Denver, Colo., and Sergeant Phillip Hempel, of Kilgore, Neb., enroute home from the Army War College at Washington, D. C., stopped in Greencastle Tuesday to visit the former's cousin, Miss Gertrude Oakley, deputy county clerk, and other relatives. Sergeant Hempel was employed at the Leopold Bellan has been discharged from service.

BIGAMIST TO BE TRIED FOR WIFE SLAYING

GEORGE PERRY FACES MURDER
CHARGE IN WISCONSIN
CIRCUIT COURT

EAGLE RIVER, Wis. July 28 (UP).—In this north woods village, a few miles south of the Lac Du Flambeau Indian reservation, George W. E. "Jigg" Perry soon will be tried on charges of murdering Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett, one of his six bigamous wives.

A special session of circuit court has been called to hear the case. Judge Alexander H. Reid, Wausau, will preside and the state will be represented by district attorney Edmund H. Drager, of Vilas county, assisted by A. J. Omelia, Rhinelander, as special prosecutor.

Perry will be defended by attorney John J. Dolan, Milwaukee, who studied law in night school.

When Mrs. Hackett's body was found last October in the woods near here, there was no indication of the revelations that were to follow.

Her death ended what had appeared on the surface as a "perfect honeymoon."

Mrs. Hackett met Perry through a want ad, which sought the services of a woman to act as his companion on a trip to California. The ad was "blind" and Mrs. Hackett thought it had been inserted by a woman.

The friendship ripened, and, through the strength of a remarkable personality and promises of wealth, Perry won the former Milwaukee school teacher as his wife.

Using the bride's automobile and money, Perry having no funds, the couple left for Eagle River on their honeymoon. All was serene for two weeks and Houscton W. Parker, proprietor of the resort where the couple stayed, reported later that he had never seen a happier or more contented pair.

On July 6 Perry borrowed a rifle from Parker, saying he wished to do a "little shooting." Bride and bridegroom left together on the hunting trip.

A few hours later, Perry returned Parker's rifle, paid his bill, packed Mrs. Parker's clothes, and drove away in her automobile.

This was the last time the bride was seen alive.

From Eagle River, Perry went to Cleveland, O., where the first of his bigamous wives, Mrs. Kathryn Gehhart, lived. He stayed only a few days, however, and she later reported finding a woman's clothes in the back of Mrs. Hackett's automobile. Perry explained, she said, that the articles belonged to an aunt.

Nothing further was heard from Perry until Aug. 16, when he obtained a license in Carmi, Ill., to wed Miss Lydia Downey, and on Aug. 27 he married Miss Elizabeth Morrison, at Harrisburg, Ill.

Next he met Mrs. Herbert Milligan, at Belleville, Ill., and she became his sixth wife on Oct. 6, a few days after the body of Mrs. Hackett was found.

Identification of the body sent police of every city on his trail. He went to Blythville, Ark., where Mrs. Hackett's automobile was recognized and where he barely eluded arrest. Portrayed him to St. Louis, but he escaped again.

In May, 1931, two San Francisco, Cal., detectives read a story of Perry's life in a detective story magazine. They recognized a picture of him as a man who had reported the theft of a coat.

Perry was found at the home of Anna Marie Gutierrez, a rooming house owner, whom he had married under the name of Frank J. Moran. It was her coat that had been stolen and Perry had boldly gone to the police station with a report of its loss.

He was taken into custody and sullenly and steadfastly denied he was Perry. He said he had been employed as agent for a labor union and that his name was Frank J. Moran.

The Vilas county murder warrant was found and extradition papers were signed by the governors of Wisconsin and California. Perry was returned to Eagle River, where he entered a plea of not guilty to the murder charge, but readily admitted his identity.

HAS MANY SHEEP

ANGOLA, July 27 (UP)—Steuben county has more sheep to an acre than any other county in the state, according to James H. White, farm expert.

Besides having T. I. Ferris, president of the Indiana Wool Growers' association, living within its boundary, the county one of the youngest sheep breeders in the country, White said.

Claire Gilbert, 21, has won 150 ribbons, 30 first awards, three championships, one trip to the Purdue Round-Up and also a trip to the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

Gilbert's sheep raising started at the age of 12, when he found a lamb that had strayed from a passing flock. His father gave him a ewe and from the pair he raised a flock which in one year brought him $1,000.

PARIS STYLES

PARIS, July 27 (UP)—The new winter fashions, on display today the hottest day of the year—ranged from the "leg o' mutton" velvet coat sleeve of the empire period to street coats with calf-length pajamas for town wear.

Many novelties were among the new creations which showed a general trend toward the empire and second empire style of old French costumes.

The leg o' mutton coat sleeve by yteb was one of the hits. Skirt lengths were to the lower midcalf, and evening lengths to the instep or to the floor.

Short trains hung from bustle bows at the waistline.

Predominating colors shown included black, white, wine, green and peach.

Materials were many, including velvet, lace, crepe, taffeta, satin and flat furs.

The empire influence was seen in quaint shoulder treatments, with high collars and muffs.

Yteb also featured U street coat with calf length pajamas for town wear. Off-shoulder evening gowns were shown, with velvet shoulder bows, tight waists and diagonal draped skirts.

A new material, diarachnak, a double rough tweed for ensembles and trim sealskin dresses also were featured.

Hunts ran toward plumes and feathers, raising the hopes of the Ostrich farmers after seven long lean years.

More American buyers were on hand than last year.

BUSINESS SURVEY

INDIANAPOLIS, July 27 (UP)—Increasingly good business outlook was seen for Indiana today in a survey just conducted, with the announcement that the Standard Steel Car company of Hammond had received an order from the Great Northern railroad for 500 cars.

Better freight business has resulted in removal of 700 cars from storage tracks of the New York Central Railroad at Elkhart. This will leave about the same number of cars in storage.

The Warner Gear company of Muncie has obtained an order to provide free wheeling devices for all automobiles manufactured by Willys-Overland, Inc.

First shipments have been made by a new Brazil industry, cigar factory operated by Alfonso. Rios & Co., Chicago.

Equipment being installed in the plant of the Philadelphia Quartz works at Anderson will double its capacity.

Building operators noted during the week include a new business block in Normal City, Muncie suburb, by Charles Veneman Sr., and a $25,000 water system for the town of Pittsboro.

A group of Indianapolis men is proceeding with plans for engaging in the rock wool industry at Lagro, and it is probably that the old trailer factory now in a receiver's hands, will serve the industry.

A new type of muffler for internal combustion engines, adaptable to all makes of automobiles is engaging attention of the experimental department of Noblitt-Sparks Industries, Inc.

Goshens city $250,000 light plant, under construction since February is now in operation. A contract for supplying current by the Northern Indiana Public Service Company will not expire until Aug. 1, and connections will be maintained to afford a standby service.

RACKED BY DISORDERS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 27 (UP)—Southern-most South America was racked by civil disorders today. The neighboring nations of Chile and Argentina maintained pace with difficulty, after severe outbreaks and with fears of more to come.

More than 200 were wounded with an apparently considerable death toll in Santiago, Chile, during three days of violent anti-government demonstrations accompanied for formation and resignations within 10 days. Santiago was calm this morning.

Provisional President Jose E. Uriburu of Argentina was likewise a target of dissatisfaction which had brought brief rebellion in the central provinces, terminating in suppression and application of martial law in the affected areas.

STORY OF THE "GREAT SEAL" OF THE UNITED STATES

he almost unbelievable of George Washington's activities begins to stand out more sharply than ever at the approach of his 200th birthday anniversary in 1932 quickens popular interest in the long and intensely active life he lived. We know that he designed the first flag for his army at the siege of Boston, and had a part in planning the star-spangled banner. During the siege of Boston he instituted the first attempt at a United States navy. West Point owes its being to him. Indeed he seems to have thought of everything, in his zeal to see the United States firmly established in security and independence.

Only one thing closely identified with our government seems to have escaped his attention, perhaps because at the time he was already away from the Continental congress and engaged in fighting for independence on the battlefield. In any event, the famous "great seal" of the United States was designed and executed without his participation.

Perhaps this accounts for the curiously twisted and backward history of that indispensable adjunct of national sovereignty. It is a historic fact, perhaps lost to sight, that hardly was the signing of the Declaration of Independence out of the way, than the Continental congress, on July 4, 1776, appointed a committee to design an arms and seal for the United Colonies. In spite of the fact that the committee consisted of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, and Thomas Jefferson, all men of judgment and distinguished taste, the design they submitted to congress was discarded and the matter of a seal for the United States was dropped for four full years.

In 1780 congress appointed another committee to reconsider the discarded design, only to discard it again. Finally, in 1782, a third committee was appointed to settle the matter of a seal, and William Barton, A. M., of Philadelphia and Lancaster, an expert in heraldry, was employed to draw up a new design. Charles Tomson, secretary of congress, suggested a few improvements, and from these, Barton designed the "arms of the United States," adopted on July 20, 1782.

Such is the story of the "great seal of the United States," so called because a "lesser seal" was authorized but never executed. Then, on the adoption of the constitution and the establishment of the United States of America, the great seal was placed in the custody of the secretary of state, and ever since has been under his guardianship. On application, Americans on sight-seeing visits to the national capital, may see this symbol of the mighty authority of their government, among the exhibits in the department of state.

Three times in our history it has been necessary to replace the great seal, as the result of wear. The first replacement occurred 1841, when Daniel Webster was secretary of state. On this occasion the engraver was guilty of a curious blunder. In place of the thirteen arrows that belong in one of the eagle's talons, he engraved only six. In 1884, when again it was necessary to engrave a new seal, this error was corrected and the seal became a slight enlargement and sharpening of the original design of the Continental congress. In 1903 the seal was again renewed, in close adherence to the original Barton design, the authorities having decided that any change would break the historic continuity of his emblem of our sovereignty.

BERRIES BRING REVENUE
JASPER, July 27 (UP)—Fifteen acres of strawberries which survived the drought of last summer, brought DuBois county farmers, members of the St. Anthony club, more than $200 an acre. Plans are now being made to construct a loading shed to handle car lot shipments next year.

HIGH AVERAGE
CONNERSVILLE, July 27 (UP)—Charles Daniels, living near here, reported that on a nine-acre field of wheat he received an average of 52 bushels to an acre.

"It so happens
I don't smoke..."

BUT I've noticed recently that more of my girl friends are smoking
CHESTERFIELD, and I asked why.

"One of them said that CHESTER-FIELDS really are milder and taste better—that there is nothing strong or sharp or bitter about them.

"Another one spoke up and said that she too liked the taste of CHESTER-FIELDS; but that she was especially pleased with the package—so neat and attractive. Chesterfields—she added—are made right—properly filled—and burn evenly; and she thought possibly they were using a better cigarette paper.

"Still another one agreed with all we'd said. She'd been smoking CHESTER-FIELDS for a long, long time, and had always liked them; but she also liked the way they were advertised. The advertising seemed to her to be the truth and the whole truth—it wasn't always knocking somebody or something!"

INDIANA ENGINEER SEES SUCCESS FOR 5-YEAR PLAN

NEWCASTLE, Ind., (UP)—A simple answer as to why the five-year plan will succeed in Russia is given by Charles Butterworth, home here on a vacation after more than a year in the Soviet country, where he was employed as an engineer.

"The plan will succeed," Butterworth said, "because anything that they have at the end of five years, or any given period will be just that much more than they started with. In fact," he added, "four or five consecutive five-year plans should succeed there."

Butterworth, who worked in a large tractor manufacturing plant, said he planned to return to Russia late in July.

QUITS UNION

ALBION, July 25 (UP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company induced Vasile Foor, of Garrett, to quit the railroad union by promising him permanent employment but later discharged him, he alleged in a suit for $21,240 here.

According to Foor, he began working for the railroad 20 years ago but quit during a strike in 1922. Under promise of steady work, Foor returned to his job and lost his membership in the union by doing so. May 15, he was discharged despite the agreement he said.

MEETING CAUSES DEFICIT

INDIANAPOLIS, July 27 (UP)—Indiana's gesture as host to the Nations governors left the state with a deficit, it was revealed today as a tabulation was made of the costs of the conference at French Lick.

An appropriation of $10,000 was voted by the legislature to fete the governors. Remaining in the fund is $1,400, but one outstanding bill is $3,167.50. There is also a possibility that more debts may arise, according to Gaylord Morton, secretary to Governor Harry G. Leslie, who handled the accounts.

The records showed that $6,393.65 was paid the French Lick Springs Hotel and that gold badges cost $684.74. J. O. Lee, secretary of the State Printing board, has estimated printing costs at $2,000, but art work cost $1,140.79 and the printing bill was $4,500, of which $3,167.50 remains to be paid, Morton said.

WHEAT IS SEVENTH

INDIANAPOLIS, July 27 (UP)—Wheat is seventh in the list of farm products graded according to the amount of money they bring in annually, a report of the U. S. Department of agriculture revealed here.

Cotton was found to be first, with an annual income of $1,450,170,000. Milk was next with $1,453,646,000, followed by hogs with $1,292,353,000. Other products listed were cattle, chickens, corn, truck crops, tobacco, wool, sheep and lambs, fruits and nuts, hay, forest products, apples and oats.

The survey was made over a five year period extending from 1925 to 1929.

CHECK FERTILIZER RESULTS

MONTICELLO, July 27 (UP)—A pasture on the Rieff and Son farm, near here recently was checked for the results of fertilizer treatment, comparing different fertilizers with a plot unfertilized. Each treatment resulted in a marked increase in yield of pasture, the highest being more than four times as great as the yields on the unfertilized plot.

BETTER DO DAMAGE

PORTLAND, July 28 (UP)—Reports that gray blister beetles have been causing considerable damage in Jay county have been received here. J. J. Davis, Purdue university entomologist, explained that the insects were common in Indiana, but added that control of the pests was difficult.

Davis said that he had not had satisfactory results with arsenicals in exterminating the insects, but found that they could be killed by sodium or barium fluosilicate.

MAY EXHUME BODY

MUNCIE, July 28 (UP)—A relative of a 13-year old boy, held here on a burglary charge, has offered to pay expenses of exhuming the body of the boy's sister to recover a ring he gave her, believed to have been stolen.

Police said the youth had confessed looting four homes of watches, jewelry and money. When his sister was ill, he sent her a ring. It was not removed when she was buried.

MAN WHO KILLS SELF IDENTIFIED AFTER 11 YEARS

WAKARUSA, July 28 (UP)—The identity of a man who committed suicide here 11 years ago has been established by his twin brother, Alfred Bickman, formerly of South Bend.

The suicide hurled himself under the wheels of a Wabash train near here. The body was held for three weeks in an effort to identify it, then buried.

Bickman established the identity from photographs, clothing and personal belongings found on the body. He said he and his brother had become separated shortly after the other enlisted in the American Army in the World War.

TALK WITH SON

CALUMET CITY, July 28 (UP)—Two amateur radio operators, living here keep Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks in constant communication with their son, Ralph, who is radio operator for the Donald B. McMillan expedition in the arctic.

The two operators are O. A. Hintline, Hammond, and R. H. Johnson, Chicago. Both are equipped with low wave transmitters and receivers. Nearly every morning Mrs. Brooks receives a written message from Johnson and a telephone call from Hintline relating Ralph's experiences of the previous day.

The expedition now is in Labrador, expecting to start soon for Baffin land, above the arctic circle on a mapping tour.

There are 16 other persons in the party, and their relatives are advised of the progress of the journey through Ralph's equipment on the ship Bowdoin. This is Ralph's second trip with McMillan on an expedition.

The party left a Maine port June 27, and expects to return by the middle of September.

CRIMINOLOGIST DECLARES

AMERICANS KILL FOR GAIN PITTSBURGH, (UP)—Native-born American whites murder for money; Negroes for jealousy; Latin-country immigrants for revenge or because of alcoholism, according to Dr. Giovanni Giardini, lecturer at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Giardini, a noted criminologist, has just completed a psychological study of killers in Western Penitentiary here. He has been impressed by the trivial motives for many murders.

Mental states, superinduced by diseases, especially by epilepsy, can frequently be blamed for murders where the apparent motive is surprisingly petty, according to Dr. Giardini.

"MAKE-BELIEVE" by FAITH BALDWIN

Copyright, 1930, by Faith Baldwin

Mary Lou Thurston, beautiful orphan, seeks a position in the home of wealthy Mrs. Margaret Lorimer. The latter's son, Travers, a shell-shocked war veteran, enters. At sight of Mary Lou he becomes wildly excited, takes her in his arms and calls her "Delight" and "wite." Later Mrs. Lorimer explains that Travers has mistaken Mary Lou for Delight Harford, whom he claims he married in England, but of whom no record can be found. Mrs. Lorimer persuades Mary Lou to assume the role of Delight to help Travers regain his health. Travers is told that, as Delight was so young at the time of her marriage and had since thought him dead, they must start all over again. In her first encounter with Travers Mary Lou plays her part perfectly. Travers takes new interest in life. Mrs. Lorimer hopes he will fall in love with Mary Lou. Travers, believing Larry Mitchell, Mary Lou's friend, is in love with her, reminds Mary Lou that she is still his wife. At Christmas Travers' lack of the holiday spirit causes Mary Lou to call him ingrown and selfish. He tells her she is a changed Delight but the girl he loves.

CHAPTER XXIV.

"YOU—speak your mind," he told her, smiling wryly. "I guess I've been pretty much of a fool. There isn't much room in this world for dreamers..." he said.

Mary Lou squeezed his hand and a second and then released her own.

"There's lots of room for dreamers," she told him, "but they are doers as well. Just dreaming," said Mary Lou, "gets you nowhere."

Later she joined him in a heavy sweater, a green tam and stout boots over woolen stockings and a very short skirt. And they went out together in a snow flurry into the north grove, where, with Henderson's help, they picked out a tree, a tall, beautifully shaped majestic fir.

Truth Hurts

"It seems a shame to cut it down," said Mary Lou, a little sadly, "but, after all, it will be a happy sort of death, with candles burning and people singing and somewhere a star shining... to remind us."

Lorimer said nothing. His heart was sore and bruised from the impact of her hard straight-flung words. But he looked down now into her moved, flushed face and saw her eyes as radiant as the stars of which she spoke. Oh, she had changed! She was harder in some way that he had to admit was fine, a hardness as of diamonds, yet she was softer, more easily touched by the more impersonal emotions. He could remember that other Delight as clinging and passionate one moment and glittering with bravado and gaiety the next. This girl had gaiety, but of a different kind; she had a reckless courage but no bravado.

They tramped back to the house together, the soft, dry snow stinging their eyes, tangling in Mary Lou's escaping curls and thick on her long lashes. In the woods there was a gray gloom, soft as a dove's breast, faintly lit by the dream-green of the living firs. Needles lay under foot, a fragrant carpet. Overhead, through bare branches and branches set with cones, the sky was a thick veil of

FREAK CALF DIES

KNIGHTSVILLE, July 28 (UP)—An eightlegged calf which died on the farm of Ed. Wilson, near here, has been embalmed for preservation. Dr. T. A. Walsh said it was the first animal he had heard of having eight perfect formed legs.

FAVOR CITY PLANT

MARTINSVILLE, July 28 (UP)—City officials, planning a municipal electric light plant here, have been advised that it will have to be financed by some method other than bonding of the city owned water plant, Arthur Gillion, former attorney general, told the city the bonding plan would not be feasible, but Ralph Lowder, city attorney, expressed a belief that a plan to finance the project can be arranged.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

DEFINES "COLLEGE BRED" URBANA, Ill., (UP)—Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, president of the University of Illinois, is rapidly attaining a reputation as a humorist. At a recent conference with members of the Illinois state legislature, assembled to listen to his plea for passage of a bill appropriating $11,780,000 for the university's biennial expenses, Chase went a long way toward capturing the support of the members in appealing to their humor with a story in which a new definition is given to the term "college bred."

"It means," he said, "the flower of youth and the dough of old age."

BLACK WALNUT PLENTIFUL

HUNTINGTON, Ind., July 28 (UP)—Indiana is the largest producer of black walnut in the United States, according to L. Leroy Neubach, in an article in the Indiana Farmer's Guide.

"Native American walnut, known as the Juglans nigra, is grown extensively in Indiana and is the most widely used of all walnut woods," Neubach said. He advised farmers that when cutting trees, extreme care veneer is taken from the stump. Neubach pointed out, often making this part of the tree more valuable than all the remainder.

failures openly discussed, nor can it entirely delight her to learn that that same son has received a vigorous verbal beating. But all Mary Lou had thought—and uttered—was so true, and might prove so helpful that Margaret conquered her feeling of slightly indignant dismay and said instantly:

"You were perfectly right. Poor Travers... it must have been a bitter medicine!"

And Mary Lou had been honest to the very last ditch. She had even repeated Lorimer's reminder of their "marriage" and his confession of love. At the one Mrs. Lorimer had sighed aloud; at the other, wisely refrained from indulging in small and large packages. At dinner he seemed tired, a little fine drawn and nervous, but his mood was genial and it pleased him to be mysterious about his sudden trip.

At dinner, too, he informed his mother that when she went to New York on her charitable Christmas mission he'd like to go along, please.

She nodded and said, simply, "We'd love to have you," but her eyes were misted over with sudden keen happiness, almost unbearable. She knew, of course, what had brought or perhaps forced him to this decision, but the meat didn't matter, it was the end which counted. If only he could win back his normal interest in other people, regain his one-time spontaneous boyish generosity. As a boy he had been the most generous being she had ever known. Even as a child, a baby almost, he had been afflicted, in his small way, by the woes of the world, by the sorrows of less fortunate childhoods than his own.

The Joy of Giving

Later, alone with Mary Lou, she reminded her, anxiously: "But I intend to go to the Veterans' Hospital... I didn't know whether to tell him or not."

"Don't," advised Mary Lou slowly, "until you are ready to go. I had forgotten that plan. I think it might do him an enormous amount of good. But he'd better not be permitted to brood over it ahead of time."

So, a few days before Christmas Day, the three of them set out early from Westwood House, the big closed car packed with boxes and bundles and baskets, and were driven into town and to the various addresses in the most miserable sections of the city.

Mary Lou and Mrs. Lorimer carried little bundles when their destinations were reached, the chauffeur and Lorimer struggling under those of bulkier size and weight. They went into a dozen wretched rooms, dark, cramped and hideous with poverty and despair. And into those rooms they brought, not only material things, but light and hope and the fragrance of friendliness without patronage.
